Dear Ms. Subic--

Last month I had the pleasure of visiting the Koreshan Park, along with my husband and a friend and mentioned that I had access to some material that was probably new to you; I have enclosed copies. I also recommend the story "The Great Alchemist at Utica" in the book DARK TREES TO THE WIND by Carl Carmer who was a highly regarded folklorist in upstate New York. The book is listed in the references of Mr. Fine's paper.

I was also able to pick up quite a bit of literature relating to the community at the Koreshan Unity library; I think all this can make an interesting talk or perhaps slide show for our historical society.

Perhaps you can help with some questions I wish I had known enough to ask while I was there. First statistics--how many square miles make up Lee County and what was the population in 1900?

Carmer has an account of an attack on Dr. Teed by the town marshall in Fort Myers on October 13, 1906. Also, I also found a report from Bristol, TN on December 28(1908) in which Mr. H. W. Silverfriend is identified as being vice president of the Koreshan University and chairman of the Board of Directors (He declared the rumors of Teed's death false, and also refers to Victoria Gratia as Teed's wife). Can you shed any light on either of these statements?

Do you know if Douglas Teed, the son, had any involvement with the community? He died in Detroit in 1926, I believe, and I suspect that he had little to do with his father. Is there any record of when the community acquired his paintings (They were there when Carmer visited in the late '40s). I found even less information on the son than on the father, although our local museum has one painting of his but their biographical information is completely at odds with what I have gathered.

Fascinating story. I hope that this information is useful to you and that you have some insight on my questions.

Sincerely,

Peg Hassett

WATER COMPANIES' BILLS REDUCED

CONTROLLER, RUSSELL OURS

FOR HYDRANT BRANCHES

The Controller Holds That According to the Contract the City Should Not Pay for Connections Between Mains and Hydrants.

If Controller Rouswig is correct in his reading of the contract between the city and the Consolidated Water Company, the taxpayers will hereafter be relieved of the expense of connecting fire hydrants with water mains. The Controller has cut several of the water company's bills and in the following letter he tells why:

- "Utica, Dec. 26, 1906.
- "Consolidated Water Company, Utica: Gentlemen—You are hereby advised that claims presented by you for setting, resetting and repairing fire hydrants have this day been passed upon by me, as follows:
- "No. 3,725—Dated August 6, 1906, for $128.27, disallowed.
- "No. 3,726—Dated November 2, 1906, for $152.25, audited for $95.02.
- "No. 3,727—Dated October 19, 1906, for $244.25, audited for $135.55.
- "No. 3,728—Dated November 25, 1906, for $247.75, audited for $103.39.
- "No. 3,728 1/2—Dated November 25, 1906, for $237.17, audited for $101.87.
- "No. 3,729—Dated October 3, 1906, for $247.37, audited for $148.78.

You will probably understand without any explanation why these reductions are made and why claim No. 3,725, which is exclusively for repaving where branch pipe has been laid between the main and the hydrant, is disallowed in its entirety. Upon his appearance before me, your general manager, John F. Reagan, jr., swore that these claims included charges for labor and material employed upon the branch pipe leading from the main to the hydrant. In the contract between the Utica Water Works Company and the City of Utica it is expressly provided that "no portion of the expense to be paid by the city shall include the expense of the pipe connecting the hydrant with the water or main pipe." To comply with the terms of the contract, I have eliminated from your claims all items for repaving, and so much of the charges for material and labor as is obviously for work performed upon the branch pipe between

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Edgar and Elizabeth Russell Before Judge O'Connor on Charge of Public Intoxication

Edgar and Elizabeth Russell, husband and wife, were arraigned in City Court yesterday on the charge of public intoxication. The Russells live on Charles street. Russell demanded a trial and his case was adjourned to December 29, at 11 a. m. Bail was fixed at $200. Mrs. Russell pleaded guilty to the charge of public intoxication on October 11 and at that time sentence was suspended. She was placed under the observation of the probation officer. She had violated her parole by being intoxicated, in violation of which she was sent to jail for four months.

When Russell was arraigned before Judge O'Connor, Charity Commissioner Batchelor told the Court he was one of the most disreputable men of the city. Christmas afternoon Mr. Batchelor said he received a telephone from a lady stating that a man who was visiting a minister had given the Russells $5 on the plea that they had no money with which to get anything to eat for Christmas. The heart of the gentleman was touched and he generously gave them the money.

Bruno Valloio was sent to jail for six months on the charge of petit larceny. The complainant was Michael Mascolo, who accused the defendant of obtaining $2 from him by aid of false and fraudulent representations and pretenses, claiming that Valloio represented that he would secure a pension for him if he deposited the above mentioned amount. Attorney Gabriel Zito appeared for the defendant and the people were represented by Seward A. Miller, assistant corporation counsel.

James Collins was arraigned on two charges. He was charged with petit larceny, being accused of stealing a kit of bricklayers' tools valued at $8. He was discharged on that offense. The other charge was that of burglary, third degree, on complaint of David Alexander. In the complaint it was alleged that Collins forced a door at 413 Bleecker street with intent to steal therefrom. Collins pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned to December 31 at 10:30 a. m. Bail was fixed at $500.

Thomas Koscielnick was arraigned on the charge of public intoxication. His case was adjourned to December 29 at 10 a. m. Koscielnick, it is also alleged, assaulted his son, a lad of about 12 years. En route to the Police Station in the patrol, it is said, that he became troublesome and as the result he received two bruised eyes.

Edward Jones, it is alleged, stole $4 from his mother and was arraigned on the charge of petit larceny. His

VARIED CAREER OF DR. CYRUS R. TEED

FORMER, WELL KNOWN PHYSICIAN, CHIEF DEAD IN FLORIDA

AN INTERESTING STORY

Teed proclaimed himself "Cyrus, the Messenger," a Composite of Christ, Buddha and All Other Messiahs—Held That Earth Was Hollow Globe.

Dr. Cyrus R. Teed, who, many years ago, in company with his brother, Samuel F. Teed, practiced medicine in this city, having an office on the corner of Genesee and Seneca streets, died in Florida last Tuesday. Patients and others who called at the physician's office saw, hung in a conspicuous place on the wall, this sign: "He Who Deals in Poison Deals in Death." By poison the doctor meant intoxicating liquors. Though they retained their office for years it is known that the brothers were never burdened with too much business. S. F. Teed died about three years ago and Cyrus R. left Utica some years ago, since which time nothing has been heard of him until news of his death in Florida was received. That Dr. Teed has had a remarkable career may be seen from the following article printed in yesterday's Post-Standard of Syracuse:

"Among his angels and followers at his religious colony in Florida lies dead 'Dr.' Cyrus R. Teed, a native of Onondaga County, who barely escaped lynching in Chicago in 1892 when his methods of conducting 'heaven' were uncovered. All day yesterday his people watched over him awaiting the resurrection he had predicted.

"Although he died Tuesday news of his death did not become public until yesterday, when it was predicted that the authorities of Lee County, Florida, would bury him by force if his adherents did not do so voluntarily.

Teed or "Korcar I," the Greek for his first name, was a self-styled "Messiah," who founded the Sunset flat in Normal Park at Chicago in 1892. The Korshian colony originated in California, whether he drifted after having become more or less saturated with the methods of Schweinfurth of Rockford fame. His recruits came easily on the Pacific Coast and within a year he broadened his operations by tracts and publications to localities scattered all over the United States until the

POOR'S LIABILITIES AT LEAST $5,000,000

One of Largest Financial Collapse Recovered in Recent Times

New York, Dec. 26.—Henry W. Poor, a well known banker and broker of Wall street, and for years the publisher of "Poor's Manual of Railroads," failed to-day. His banking and brokerage firm, known as H. W. Poor & Co., with offices at No. 38 Wall street, made an assignment to Mark T. Cox, of the firm of Robert T. Wintthrop & Co., without preference. No statement regarding liabilities or assets was forthcoming to-day, but, as Mr. Poor has been prominent in the street and has influential connections, it is believed his liabilities will reach at least $5,000,000. The entire brunt of the failure is borne by Mr. Poor, his former partners having withdrawn from the firm. The former partners included Mr. Poor's son, William M. Phoenix, Franklin W. Hunt, Charles F. Cushman and Frederick A. Farrar.

The failure is probably one of the largest that has occurred in the financial district in some time. Mr. Poor was looked upon not only as a very wealthy man, but his family has long held a high social position. He has two magnificent homes, one the old Cyrus W. Field mansion at No. 1 Lexington avenue and the other a stone chateau at Tuxedo, which have been gathering places of the ultra-fashionable for years. As the Stock Exchange was closed to-day, the announcement of the failure, of course, could not be reflected in market conditions. An effort was made by lawyers for several of the large creditors to present a bankruptcy petition to a Federal judge but none could be found sitting. No statement regarding the assignment was forthcoming to-day from Mr. Poor.

John L. Cadwalader, of the law firm representing the assignee, and an attorney, Lewis A. Dehafield, representing certain large creditors, made the following announcement:

"There are no preferences beyond such as the statute gives to employees. "A superficial examination justified the belief that if the creditors who are few in number will co-operate in enabling the assignee to effect a favorable liquidation of the assets, a large sum will be realized for their benefit. Written assurances of important financial assistance to such creditors as will co-operate to that end has been given."

The lawyers representing the assignee and the creditors say they are unable at this time to make any estimate of Poor & Co.'s assets or liabilities. They declined also to make any statement as to the cause of the assignment.

STRICKEN WIFE ENTERING

Mrs. Julia A. McCarthy

DIED IN THE AM

Was Unconscious When Covered at an Early Morning—Pushed Away the Way to General Ho-

While on her way bearing spent Christmas at friends in West Utica, Mrs. McCarthy was taken violent she was found in an unconscious condition yesterday morning a step of the house where she was boarding.

About 5 o'clock yesterday as Abram Hatfield, a motor street railway, in car Charles R. Nutt, were on work, and in passing down avenue they noticed the woman lying on the steps at 15 Seymour avenue. On investigation they believed to be dead. Not knowing they rang the doorbell of and James H. Martin, there, answered the bell, seeing who it was, carried house, and finding that still warm summoned the police. The ambulance driver encountered some difficulty in locating the call came from and at 6:30 o'clock when the uniform was placed in the conveyance was hurried to the General Hospital. Dr. Lambert, died life was extinct. Coroner notified and ordered the body to Scholl's undertaking South street. Coroner De soon afterward and starts litigation. The Coroner tookments of James B. Marri wife, with whom she was. They said that she had roo house since the latter 30 August. They stated that house about 7 o'clock yesterday and they did not see body was found yesterday.

Joseph McCann, a person Miss McCarthy, stated that spent Christmas eve and Day at the home of Mr. Julius Neibach, 424 Colun Street. She accompanied Mrs. Nell no portion of the expense to be paid by the city shall include the expense of the pipe connecting the hydrant with the water or main pipe. To comply with the terms of the contract, I have eliminated from your claims all items for repaving, and so much of the charges for material and labor as is obviously for work performed upon the branch pipe between the main and the hydrant. In all other particulars, the claims stand unchanged and are audited for the amounts which you have charged.

"Warrants have been drawn upon the Treasurer for the amounts allowed, and checks in payment of your claims will be ready for you early next week.

"Very truly yours,

"Fred G. Ruesswig, Controller."

In explanation of his action Controller Ruesswig gave out the following interview:

"The claims upon which these reductions have been made are for work done upon fire hydrants during the present year. The one claim which is entirely disallowed is for repaving in connection with hydrant work done in 1907 too late to be included in the bill for last year. My action is based upon an interpretation of the contract differing materially from that which has been accepted on behalf of the city heretofore, and I contend that the present interpretation is the only one which an official desirous of doing his duty can accept. The contract makes it mandatory upon the company to set, reset and repair hydrants whenever and wherever the city shall designate, the city to pay for the hydrants, setting and connections, but the contract expressly states that no portion of the expense to be paid by the city shall include the expense of the pipe connecting the hydrant with the water or main pipe. This plainly implies that the expense to be borne by the city shall stop at the hydrant itself, but until the present the city has paid also for the trenching, backfilling, material used upon the branch pipe and also the repaving. No charge has been made for the pipe itself, the word 'expenses' used in the contract being misinterpreted for 'price.' In other words, the company claims that the city should be exempt only from the 'price of pipe,' while its claim exemption from the 'expense of pipe' as stated by the contract; which, of course, means all the charges attached to the laying of this pipe. Had the framers of the contract meant to include only the 'price of pipe' they would have undoubtedly so worded the contract. My attention was called to this obvious infringement of the terms existing between the company and the city by Charles H. Prescott, and after consultation with special counsel, the Hon. George C. Morehouse, I decided to eliminate all such charges as evidently pertained to the expense of the branch pipe.

"As a basis for a reasonable charge for setting hydrants, we take some of the items of the claims in question, wherein are charges for such work at the Academy grounds and along Albany and Bacon streets, where the hydrant is very close to the main. Here we find that the company paid $3.03 for labor upon one hydrant, $6.28 upon another, $6.56 upon another, $6.35 upon another, and so on up to $2.29 at 10 a. m. Kościelnick, it is also alleged, assaulted his son, a lad of about 12 years. En route to the Police Station in the patrol, it is said, that he became troublesome and as the result he received two bruised eyes.

Edward Jones, it is alleged, stole $4 from his mother and was arraigned on the charge of petit larceny. His case was adjourned. Ball was fixed at $200.

For vagrancy George Polltzer, Thomas Tellis, James Dunn, Frank Davla, John Butler and Fred Miller were turned loose. Peter Wilson took 60 days.

For drunkenness Joseph Kelly and Thomas Smith were fined $3 or ten days. Augustus Tobin had the same choice. Thomas McCarthy took 30 days and Edward Moran was discharged.

Adelaide Wallace was discharged on the charge of drunkenness. Agnes Elmore, on a similar charge, was fined $5 or 15 days in jail. Her fine was paid.

VETOED BY MAYOR

Two Resolutions Adopted by Common Council Disapproved.

Mayor Wheeler yesterday afternoon filed with City Clerk Arthur Burke two vetoes of resolutions which were recently adopted by the Common Council. One disapproves of Alderman Irion's resolution directing the Commissioner of Public Works to notify property owners in front of whose property there are barb wire fences to remove the same forthwith, and in case of refusal to comply with the notice to do so, the work to be done, and assess the expense to the property owners. The Mayor says he can find no law which will justify such action and he is legally advised that no such power is vested in the Common Council.

The other veto is as follows: "To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Utica:

"Gentlemen—I find certified to me as a part of your proceedings in regular session, December 18, 1908, the following:

"By Alderman Goldbas—Ordained, that the Commissioner of Public Works be and he is hereby directed to erect temporary foot bridges over the Erie Canal at Barnes avenue and Platt street. Adopted."

"Barnes avenue and Platt street are but one block apart and there are no houses on Platt street. The Barnes avenue foot bridge was erected before the ordinance was adopted. It seems entirely unnecessary to erect another bridge at Platt street, and I therefore return the ordinance without my approval. Respectfully yours, "Thomas Wheeler, Mayor."

William Chester Bennett.

Giles D. Bennett returned from Halseid, Pa., Friday, where he attended the funeral of his brother, William Chester Bennett of New York City, formerly of Utica. William C. Bennett died at his home in New York last Sunday, and the funeral services were held from his late home largely at the sunset that in Park at Chicago in 1892. The Koresnan colony originated in California, whether he drifted after having become more or less saturated with the methods of Schweinfurth of Rockford fame. His recruits came easily on the Pacific Coast and within a year he broadened his operations by tracts and publications to localities scattered all over the United States, until the year when Teed "heaven" became one of the notorious spots in Chicago. There he centered his activities.

Believers flocked to him from all sections of the country and followed implicitly his "inspired" orders. There were men, women and children, all of them lived together. One report current was that one batch of twenty-five young women came from Chicago, arrived one morning and the rites and services marking their advent to the "heaven" consumed three days.

Teed's harem, as it was called, the practices indulged in by him and his dupes, and the complaints of men whose wives he had stolen away, resulted in complaints raised such an outcry against him that he was nearly lynched. It was reported, and the authorities drove him from Chicago.

About ten years ago he purchased a tract of 4,000 acres, and the "College of Life" of Chicago, the "Society Arch Triumphant" and the "Home of Unity" in California became the Keroshan City of California of Western People, in Florida, located at Estero Bay in Lee County, where he proposed to have a New City of Jerusalem with a population of 10,000,000. He also purchased St. James Island in Charlotte Harbor, where there was a large hotel, and planned a Chautauqua University.

Two shining lights who were graduated from his teachings were Ann Odella De Bar, the several times convict, and her associate, Theodore Jackson, now serving a long term in an English prison for immorality with girl dupes in London. His De Bar was also sentenced at the same time, and was released about a year ago.

Teed, it was said, held that the earth was a hollow globe, within which we live, and that the sky was the shell of the globe. He asserted his power to overcome natural death, and expounded as his religion a lot of gibberish absurdities.

Teed announced his master stroke in Chicago in 1904, when he made public the plans of his Florida project.

Victoria Gratia, Teed's wife under the anti-marriage ceremonies by which the members of the sect lived together, awaiting the call to life of the body. It is said, has ascended his throne. She has decreed, it is reported, that there should be no burial until there was a manifestation of divine will in connection with Teed's position, self-assumed, that he was the reincarnation of Christ.

At one time Teed proclaimed himself, it is said, "Cyrus the Messenger," a composite of Christ, Buddha and all other messiahs.

financial assistance to such creditors as will co-operate to that end has been given."

The lawyers representing the assignees and the creditors say they are unable at this time to make any estimate of Poor & Co.'s assets or liabilities. They declined also to make any statement as to the cause of the assignment.

Recent incidents in the affairs of Mr. Poor are given significance now because of the failure. It is recalled that, six weeks ago, Mr. Poor began the sale of his magnificent library which he had been 30 years in collecting and which was regarded as one of the best in the country. Five thousand works were included in the sale and the purchasers included J. P. Morgan, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Senator Henry C. Lodge, George and Howard Gould.

Another significant feature was the suit of Howard Willets of Westchester County, against Poor & Co., for upward of $200,000 on account of a deal in railroad bonds into which Mr. Willets said he engaged because of the advice he received from Mr. Poor. This suit is still pending.

The transactions of the H. W. Poor concern, it is stated, were on an extensive scale, including his syndicate operations. Mr. Poor's connection with "Poor's Manual of Railroads" has been that of president and director. He was also president and director of the Postal Telegraph Company of Texas.
