"I can only attain to the performance of my ultimate work thro' my explanations.

This will be the ult^o declaration of the man of sin, that is me. Through the burning up of my natural being. Then Cyrus the Lord will appear; he being none other than the "coming of which, the coming of the Lord of men."

Ex't from letter to Mr Andrews - Dec 6th 1877

"I shall become a hole, a shell, a mere form of something that has departed, and that the form will pass to naught.

But before this - I shall lay myself array in God.

There are mysteries too deep for you now, but you shall know them hereafter."

I dare yield up my coordinaplexus and I will, because I do not desire dominion or empire. I therefore seek the unity, simplicity and childhood of being - within and of myself and will teach my people how they may become like me little children, for of such is the kingdom.
