> THE assurance comes from St. Paul, Minn., that Cardinal Gibbons will probably succeed Leo XIII as pope. A sufficient reason why he will not is supplied by the fact that the Italians, who constitute a majority of the college of cardinals, will refuse to vote for him. The Italian cardinals are simply men, and it is altogether unlikely that they will deliberately endanger if not forfeit the advantage and power they now enjoy by supporting for the papacy a candidate of another nationality. While the doctrines of the Catholic church are universal, its government is mainly Italian.—Telegraph.

IT is tolerably certain that not a sufficient number of Republican members will vote with the Democratsoto insure the enactment of a license law. But there are many representative Republicans who would favor simple repeal of the prohibitory law, supplemented by a strict penalty statute against adulterations of all kinds. Suppose a bill with that end in view is introduced, how many Democratic members would vote for it? The member who introduces such a bill will do more toward settling the liquor question than has been done for a quarter of a century in this state.-Leader.

THERE is probably no other factor that has entered more largely into the developments of Chicago's greatness than the liberal use of printers' ink by the merchants of that city. The leading merchants never allow an issue of the Chicago morning papers to go out unless it contains there announcements, and such firms as Marshall Field & Co. Here's a Man Who Can Give Jay Gould Pointers.

SHREWDNESS OF AN "APOSTLE."

How Dr. Cyrus Teed, Chief of the Kore shans, Got Control of the Vast Fortune Accumulated by the Economites-Gi-

EED, Cyrus Teed! That is the name of a man who has accomplished more at one coup than any Roths-Vanderbilt has achieved in a lifetime of shrewd financial scheming. He has got his hands on $150,-000,000 of accumu lated wealth, and it into circulation. He plans to estab lish co-operative stores, to build a six track railway across the United States and in various ways to cheapen communication and to lessen the cost of life's necessaries.

Who is Dr. Cyrus Teed? Well, he is a remarkable man-a man who has founded a celibate society known as the "Koreshans;" a man who claims to be immortal and who arrogates to himself powers usually associated with divinity alone. He has had a varied career since he was born in a New York village fifty-two years ago -a career that according to common re-

After separating from his wife, who had just given birth to a boy, Teed branched out (the date being 1870) on a western experience that is without parallel in the history of creeds or credulity. Buddha never claimed greater purity, Confucius never spoke more authoritatively, Mohammed never laid down the spiritual law with greater earnestness, and Brigham Young never had such "revelations" as this man Teed. His Chicago "College of Life" became the center from which the Koreshan doctrine spread. Branches were established at various points in the United States, the San Francisco colony being the

DR. CYRUS TRED.

Teed's initial revelation disclosed tha fact that the world is hollow, that mankind lives on the inside and that the sun is the center of the globe. As to his persoual experiences they are thus recounted. by an enthusiastic disciple:
"When he was baptized the Holy Spirit descended on him as a dove, and he heard a voice calling to him. Nobody heard the voice or naw the dove but himself. Subse quently he was caught up into heaven and lived for a time among the angels. Won-derful revelations were made to him. He learned that God became incarnate once in each era of the world's history. God or divinity became incarnate first in Adam, and subsequently in Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Moses, Elijah, Jesus and others. Each meridian covered a period of 2,000 years. Christ came in under the sign of Arles, the Ram or Lamb. After the era of the Lamb came the era of the Fishes. The Christian era has been under the constellation of Aquarius. Christ understood this when he chose fishermen for his disciples.

"Each dispensation overlaps the other. The beginning of the last lap was when Christ was born; the middle or meridian line was the day he was crucified; the end of the lap was the date of the destruction of Jerusalem. A similar overlapping of the constellations is now going on. The end of the lap will be the date when the new order of things is perfected—when the golden age is fairly inaugurated under the rule of the sexless sons of God-or about

Celibacy, by the way, is to result in the production of 144,000 sexless immortals who are to rule the earth for 75,000 years. As for Cyrus, although he has to hurry if he intends to be "translated" during the year 1891, he has of late been attending to secular affairs with a vigor already spoken

Nearly every one knows something of the record of the colony which owed its origin to the mystic teachings of George Happ. He came to America in 1805 with a band of 600 German adherents. They founded the town of Harmony in Pennsylvania, and a decade later removed to Posey county, Jud., where they established another community of the same name. Mala ris drove them from their second home. and in 1825 the remnant of the band re-turned to Pennsylvania, where they formed what is still known as the village of Econ-

Soon after reaching America the doctrine of celibacy had been promulgated and accepted by Rapp's followers, and it is in force today. One by one the immigrants died off, but a few of their places were filled with converts. In a material way the society prospered more than any other association of a religious nature the world has ever seen. Whatever the Economites undertook brought them financial profit. A veritable shower of gold seemed to rain on the little hamlet where wants were few and fleshly desires were curbed. Now a score or so of aged men and women are by survival the rightful owners of real estate, oil and gas wells, coal mines, securities, bank stocks and ready cash thought to aggregate in value at least $150,000,000. John Henrici, the chief trustee, is eightyeight years old and bedridden. Associated with him, however, as manager of this im-mense estate, is John Duss, a Cincinnati man, who has had a checkered career, and who was admitted to membership in 1889. Duss only recently passed life's thirtleth milestone, yet despite that and brief acquaintance he has the confidence of his ancient brothers and sisters. All checks are signed and all business is done by Henrici & Duss, in which firm is legally vested the entire possessions of the Econo-

So far the tale is a plain one. Now comes the complication. It seems that long since Cyrus Teed became cognizant of the methods and beliefs of the Pennsylvania community and started his Koreshan scheme along the same lines of celibacy and revelation. He adhered to Rapp's plan with such fidelity and secured such a following that when he visited Economy the other day, aired his pretensions and declared his mission, he was hailed as the immortal who was to continue and complete the task of establishing a sexless race on earth.

He has arranged to merge the rich Har-monists with the poor Koreshans, and to inaugurate a vast commercial and industrial enterprise, of which he is to be the chief. "Henrici & Duss" will disappear as a financial potency, and in their place Dr. Cyrus Teed will blossom out as the controller and manipulator of millions. Just how this tremendous earthly undertaking will harmonize with the luminent trans-lation of the doctor to a celestial sphere has not yet developed. Perhaps, in view of his good luck, the chief of the Koreshans may be induced to postpone for awhile his contemplated departure to the realms of bentitude. He indicates such a course himself in a recent statement, from which this

"I will in the near future establish a store in Pittsburg on my system of equitable commerce. I will establish a big central house in Chicago and expect my co-operative so seem to come into general vogue in ten years. Eleven years ago I prophesied that I would come to Economy in 1891. "The Economite institution has been placed here for my especial use. They will do for me whatever I wish. Their rosources are at my disposal. Of course I shall go slowly and cannot tell very much that is definite. However, I did not come here for their money. I want their moral support and credit. "Through their influence I expect to bring closer to me the other five celibate societies in this country. There are about 10,000 celibates in the country outside of the Roman Catholic church. The new order of things is approaching rapidly and order of things is approaching rapidly and will come in time. I am not going to die." Perhaps the people who regard Dr. Teed and his plans with the most disfavor are the tramps. They say that he is "out for the stuff" and that when he gets the reins in hand his first move will be to abolish the Economy "palace." This palace is a big structure near the village hotel, where all wanderers are welcomed, fed, bathed and lodged. Three thousand vagrants par-and lodged. Three thousand vagrants par-took of the society's hospitality last year.

If Dr. Teed does away with this charity he is liable to secure the enmity of a rather useless but extremely dangerous class of men. Indeed they may put his claim of immortality to a decidedly disagreeable test. FRED C. DATTON. The newest fad among rich people is to have a houseboat built, fitted with all the appurtenances of a luxurious modern home, and then cruise in this boat up and down the shores of river and sea. It is the only way in which one can be exclusive any more.

WHISPERS ABOUT WOMEN.

Mrs. Wilson, of South Paris, Mo., is cashier of the bank in which her husband is president. The wife of Fred Douglass, the colored orator, recently delivered an address on Hayti before a colored high school in Washington. Mrs. Prescott Lawrence is said to be as good a judge of a horse's points as her husband, and her ponies and carriage teams always secure prizes. The Misses Pauret, two Flemish ladies, have for several years conducted very successfully their late father's printing and publishing house in Brus-

Miss Annie I. Oppenheim has been awarded the diploma of the British Phrenological association, honoris causa, in recognition of her studies of the anatomy of the brain and her interest in phrenology.

Mme. Mulot, of Angers, a school teacher, has invented a system enabling the blind to read ordinary type. Several pupils who have been trained by this system are found to read with greater ease and rapidity than those taught by the Braille system of raised points.

Miss Charlotte Higgins, a Scotch girl of twenty, distanced 1,600 male competitors in the entrance examinations at the University of London. Miss Higgins' father died when she was but eight years old, and it is to the perseverance of her mother that she is indebted for her excellent education.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John lesile, farmer and stockman of same place says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life."
